Paul Bennett, Managing Director of Fascia Graphics commented:

“To continue to lead the market we need to invest in the latest technology to ensure that we deliver our customers with a first rate product, on time and to budget. This year we have experienced a sustained period of increased activity from our present portfolio as well as from new business and this new Flat Bed Print will provide us with the capacity to continue this growth in 2007.”

Steve Summers from Eagle Service & Machinery Ltd. commented:

“Atma Champ Ent. Corp. has consistently listened to the Screenprinters needs and has developed and produced machines accordingly. Fascia Graphics have found that the Atma range of machines ideally suits their product and production requirements and this has given them a major advantage over their competitors.”
