FASCIA STAFF TO BENEFIT FROM NATIONALLY RECOGNISED QUALIFICATION

Chippenham based, Fascia Graphics continues to raise standards with investment in business improvement programme...

Fascia Graphics, the market leader for the production of membrane keypads in the printed graphics industry has announced that it is undertaking a long term investment in its staff to train them for a national qualification in Business Improvement Techniques. The N/SVQ Level 2 in Business-Improvement Techniques will not only help improve personal career development, it will also improve business performance across the company.

Fascia Graphics has always been highly regarded across the industry for its quality control and this investment in its staff is further evidence of how the company aims to raise standards at all levels to remain the market leader. This announcement comes shortly after the company was awarded the UL Mark (PGDQ2 Status), the most widely recognised safety certification mark in the world, whilst it also received another three year ISO 9001:2000 accreditation.

Whilst based on national industry standards, the N/SVQ training will be provided by Chippenham based, Avon Vale Training. Rob Aldous from Avon Vale Training said: "This qualification is about evolution, not revolution - as it is specifically designed to cascade the knowledge instilled into the individual throughout the organisation."

Paul Bennett, Managing Director and Founder of Fascia Graphics commented: "This investment will have an effect on the whole company as the primary objective of the Business-Improvement Techniques N/SVQ is to improve business performance as a whole. We are looking forward to working closely with Avon Vale Training to ensure that the full benefit of this course is received."

"Our approach to fast tracking personal development across the company has been highly successful with retention of key staff presently running at seven years."
